

Supporting the next generation in the EIS and SEIS Industry

The EIS and SEIS market continues to grow and offer significant opportunities for an increasing number of industry participants. EISA are here to help and support young professionals as you progress your careers in the EIS and SEIS industry.

EISA can help you discover how to capitalise from those opportunities. By joining EISA you will benefit from our understanding and expertise on issues relevant to you, make connections, build networks, advance your profession, give back, and make a difference to the future direction of the S/EIS industry.

Our young professionals group, known as Green Shoots, free for all those who are 35 years of age and under who work for an EISA Full Corporate member (list available here) and is run by a committee of young professionals from across the sector. It aims to specifically support the needs of those building a career in the industry and events and content is designed to reflect this. If you are interested in getting involved and work in the EIS/SEIS industry but your organisation is not an EISA member please contact mary.rodgers@eisa.org.uk to find out more.

The EIS Association believe the EIS and SEIS fulfil much needed roles in encouraging private investment into growing British companies. By doing so, it benefits three key groups:

- The Government – through increased employment and tax revenue. The Government recognises EIS and SEIS’s contribution to the growth of the UK economy and the schemes are core to its strategy for the enterprise economy.
- Small businesses – by providing access to equity funding to help them start, grow and build their businesses that they might not otherwise be able to.
- Investors – by giving them the opportunity to be involved at an early stage in exciting small companies which can potentially provide them with significant investment returns.

EISA caters for all parts of the EIS and SEIS community regardless of which sector you come from, investor, small business, entrepreneur, fund provider/portfolio manager, accountancy, tax, legal, custodian, IFA. We are here to help you navigate the EIS and SEIS industry and achieve your objectives. If you would like more information please contact Mary Rodgers on 0207 620 6789 or email to info@eisa.org.uk
